Karma Yoga by Shrii Shrii Anandamurti

As long as you exist, you have to perform Yajina. The moment you cease from discharging duties, either due to incapacity or wrong choice you will fall into an abyss. You should not let this happen. It is your dharma to move from narrowness to vastness, from greatness to divinity. To allow yourself to fall into abyss is against the characteristic of your existence. You long for eternal bliss and endeavour for eternal life. You are associated with that unending vitality in the blood circulation of your arteries and veins and in the rhythmic throbbing of your heart. You have been listening day and night to the voice of eternal youth. Can you ever imagine remaining inert matter in an inactive state where there is no yajina? Even in the state of supreme realization you will be infused with boundless knowledge. O human being! be established in the radiance of divinity and the splendour of valour and chivalry, because yours is the the path of revolution. Your path is not the path of extra caution and scheduled movement. You are the traveller of a rugged path. You are the travelers of an impregnable path. You have to march ahead proudly with the flag of Marga upright. You have no time to stagger or to look behind.
